Introduction - What is a Chakra

“Everything in life is vibration.” — Albert Einstein

Chakra is a Sanskrit word that simply means “Energy Vortex” or “Energy Points and System”. People in Eastern cultures have been more familiar with the chakras, their power and how they work to help align the body. You are a vibrational energy system and the chakras are information centers for the body. The chakras do not show up on any x-rays. They are located in the astral spine of your astral body. However, those gifted people who have ability to see into other realms (Clairvoyance), can see the chakras. They can see if the chakra wheels are lit up and spinning (in balance) or shut down. In fact the mystics taught that there are seven levels of consciousness (or bodies): physical, etheric, emotional, mental, astral, spiritual and soul. Note: The different bodies will be discussed in more detail in a separate book at a later date. There are colors, sounds, and gemstones and minerals that correspond with all the energy centers (chakras) in the body.

Energy collects in certain areas of the body called chakras. When we concentrate on our chakras we are creating an increase flow of energy inward and upward through the astral spine which awakens and unlocks the chakra centers. Daily practice of clearing these blocked centers is very beneficial to your physical and astral bodies in many ways.

The Ancient Egyptian Pharonic Chakra System of ten major chakras are discussed in this book. There are many more chakras in the body but these are the main centers. With this book, I hope to help you to discover what your chakras are and actually experience how they work rather than you just reading another chakra book. Once you are actually aware of your chakras and have the ability to live life from a higher experience, you live a much more satisfying existence. When you get a handle on this and start to actually feel the different energy centers and the movement of their vibrational energies, the more you can direct this for your fuller experience. Now granted, at first you might just have to let your imagination help here. But once you start to “pretend” or “imagine” that you see and feel the chakras in their places you will get clearer and stronger each time you do it. Then one wonderful day, you will actually feel the places inside your body start to vibrate and even to hum a bit. It’s just sort of like little tingles at each chakra as you think of them. You are becoming so much more alive and aware. You will then know that you have the knowledge and the tools to help promote a healthier body and attitude. You are on your way to a fuller, happier life.

Your Amazing Power Portals

Your chakras store, release and use energy. The harmonious experience of the chakras is what we are all seeking, it is what is most exciting, healthy and enjoyable. The opposite is “dis”-order or disease.

You want to release any energy that is stored up in the chakras that are not serving you. Once these “blocked” or “locked” energies are released or opened, your body has a good, clear, clean pathway established to promote all that is best for you. From then forward, you have the knowledge and the tools to continue to keep your chakras balanced and to work in harmony with your body and your intentions.

“Who is in my temple?
All the doors do open themselves,
All the lights do light themselves,
Darkness like a dark bird,
Flies away, O flies away.”

by Paramhansa Yogananda in Cosmic Chants, 1938

Chapter 1 - My Story

What I learned in Egypt about the Power of Chakras, Egyptian Essences, and the Connection

I am an expressionist and an energy vibrational painter. While I was in Egypt in February, I had an intensive healing and chakra clearing session. The Holy Man of Giza they call “The Godfather” accompanied me to the ancient temple in the Sahara desert where I sat on the natural stone circle inside a rock cross platform that marks the ley line of the Mother Earths root charka. I offered pure Egyptian floral essences in a special ceremony for cleansing through my higher self to God and all the appointed guardians and messengers and asked for guidance.

That meditation at this ancient temple, in view of the pyramids and with the light of the Egyptian crescent moon gently enfolding me has become the keystone of life changing decisions and events. I spent several weeks in Egypt going through an intensive study and program learning as much as I could about these amazing and totally different essences. I felt and understood the vibrations, energy and healing value of the essences and knew I needed to share them with others. All the essences are blessed by the Holy man-Godfather and through secret practices passed down from the priest of ancient times, these essences are imbued with prayers and healing vibrations from the pyramids, the sphinx and the energies of the land, Isis, RA, the other Egyptian Deities, all the Ascended Masters, Arch Angels and all the Beings of Light. These are nothing like any other essences, commonly called oils, which you can often find in Egypt. Other oils or essences which you commonly find in Egypt can be synthetic however are not presented to the buyer as such. They also do not carry the blessings and lack the highly powerful and healing vibrational effect that is placed on the Beloved Essences products. Once you experience them, you will feel their uplifting and positive energy. They will do their work calmly and easily on your body. They can even be worn as your special fragrance just because you love the scent and they will still have the same healing effects. I have favorites that continually change with me as I change. I pick one essence that suits me for what I’m experiencing or for what I want to set my intention and add Lotus or Blue Lotus every day without fail and then add whatever suits me as the day unfolds. Since these are NOT essential oils or contain any chemicals or alcohol, you can use all of them together without any adverse smell. They can be worn together beautifully.

When I returned from Egypt I knew I had to complete the painting series of the chakras that had started just before I left. Not knowing exactly why, I had already painted the 1st (red) and 2nd (orange) chakra paintings. When I returned from Egypt I realized that I had precognition for the vibrational paintings were to accompany the essences. Since each painting had a vibrational healing effect, once combined with the essences, they were outstanding. The remaining 6 paintings that completed the “Messages from Beyond” series were painted within a two week time span. Since these paintings are 30”X40” each, the speed that they completed was remarkable in itself. A few months later I returned to Egypt for the 9th and 10th chakra essences but when I stood at the easel to channel the flow of these two paintings to finish chakra series nothing painted. I kept going to the easel every day for about 2 weeks and finally I heard RA speaking to me about doing the work for the 10th painting. He asked me to just move over and he would do this painting especially since it has more of his energy was infused with it. Then the 9th painting remained and nothing was happening with that one very fast either. Finally, Isis stepped in and decided to do the 9th painting and it turned out so beautiful. From this experience I realized also that all of my artwork has been channeled in one way or another and it was a great awakening for me about my paintings.

I named my business Beloved Essences because that’s exactly what they are, “Beloved” and pure Essences. My goal is to get the essences and an image of the paintings, either separately or together, into everyone hands so they could see for themselves and experience the feelings of happiness and love that I received from them. Happiness and Love creates healing vibrations also. If you are shy or hesitant, the card sets are a great way to acquaint yourself with the most wonderful essences on the planet today. There are also, of course, larger sizes of the essences available. If you use them as recommended for best results, they are to be used regularly as part of your daily meditation and/or chakra balancing routine. Giclee prints of the paintings in various sizes are also available on demand. The best way to use the paintings is to look at them to see what impression or feeling you are getting from each, one at a time. As you discover a feeling, a preferred favorite, any disharmony, or even maybe start to cry, while looking at a particular painting; that’s the essence or essences you need. Place a small amount over the correct chakra area on your body, or just smell it and meditate calmly for a while. Soon you will start to feel a release. Reiki masters have used these cards and essences in this exact way. Once they determine which chakra or emotion is creating an issue, they apply their Reiki energy with the essence and the client receives major benefit and relief.

People who are familiar with charka clearing and energy healing work understand that there are many ways to accomplish this. However, using these essences and working with their accompanying images have turned out to be one of the best.

And for many, who don't understand anything about the chakra system, just enjoy the aroma and the paintings for what they are, a wonderful scent and a great image.

And to others, hopefully this little book will start to awaken you to the magnificent world of chakras and their power.

Chapter 2 - Energy Vibrational Paintings.

Renee Phillips of Manhattan Arts International on healing art

“Art has transformative powers to change a person's outlook and the way they experience the world.

Art can affect a person's physiology impacting brain wave patterns and the nervous system.

Art can alter the cells in the body and it has the power to promote healing. It can strengthen a person's immune system.”

Each painting carries its own, strong vibrational healing effect and when combined with the healing energy vibrations of the essences, they are outstanding. I have used these paintings during general healing sessions and chakra clearing sessions. The vibrational effect comes across the same when I'm using the original 30"X40" paintings or the note card size. Basically, just look at the picture for a short while, taking in all its nuances. Then, keeping the picture in the same room with you, start applying the essences on your chakras. Sit quietly meditating and praying for a while. You can also use your favorite healing technique such as reiki, hands on, gemstones, light therapy or anything that you are most comfortable working with. Sometimes several chakras will come up that need work. Whether you get a feeling or impression on only one or several the procedure is basically the same. Instead of looking at only one card, just spend a little time looking at each one that triggered a response. You will feel like a new person when you've finished your meditation/praying and/or healing session.

Chapter 3 - The Beloved Essences

The ancients used these essences to stimulate, clear and balance the chakra system. They also understood how connection through your chakras you can connect to all the secrets of the Universe and Divine Understanding.

These pure essences are imbued with the strong energy and vibrations from the great pyramids, the sphinx, the powerful ancient ley lines (the planet's basic root chakra) deep in the Egyptian desert where their convergence makes a natural rock cross formation, prayers and special healing and blessing rituals evoked from the Gods by the renowned powerful Godfather Master Healer of Giza. All the Egyptian essences used are from the flowers grown for generations at the private family plantation deep in the desert. These are 100% pure Egyptian Essences combined in special blends with prayers and healing vibrations placed through them. They are to be used in daily meditation and for powerful chakra work to clear any blocks that keep you from having the rich, full life you really desire. All the Essences are blessed by the Godfather, Holy Man who lives in the most powerful area on the whole planet, directly in front of the Great Pyramid (the Kings Chamber). Many people have even said that they can feel the wonderful uplifting, harmonious vibrations going through their bodies when they smell or use them.

These Essences are not diluted in any way. They do not contain any oils, any alcohol or chemicals that usually create allergic reactions and aversions to certain smells. They do not evaporate and they most certainly are NOT essential oils. They are 100% pure highly concentrated Egyptian ESSENCES certified by the Egyptian government. The finest International perfume/perfume companies use only 1%—10% of these essences as the base for their designer fragrances.

For all the essences, not only are they to be used with their appropriate chakra location, they can be worn anywhere on the body for their wonderful uplifting feeling and they are great in any candle burner to fill a room with aroma. You can also use your own judgment and place them where you feel at the moment.

The 10 Chakra Essences and Their Benefits

Amber is used for the root chakra, your 1st chakra. Egyptian Amber is pure and not at all like your typical amber scent. It has a yummy, delicate and beautiful scent. Amber creates a calming and grounding effect and when used on the root chakra it can release hidden powers from deep inside us.

Musk is used for the sacral chakra, your 2nd chakra. Egyptian Musk is elegant, delicate, soothing and calming. It clears any blockages through your sexual organs and reproductive creative centers.

Jasmine is used for the solar plexus chakra, your 3rd Chakra. Egyptian Jasmine helps to calm the nerves, raises the spirits and inspires confidence. It is also wonderful for skincare. Egyptian Jasmine is one of the best and highest Jasmynes in the world. Three famous brands that use this form of Jasmine are Christian Dior, Giorgio, Joy Jean Patou.

Rose is used for the heart chakra, the 4th chakra. The White Egyptian Attar of Rose is calming, instills optimism and is very good for your emotions and of course, the essence of love. Once you smell this beautiful essence you will get the impression that you just put your nose into the most fragrant, lovely and largest rose ever.

Lavender is used for the throat chakra, the 5th chakra. Egyptian Lavender is relaxing for the nerves and muscles, encourages rejuvenation and clarity, and relieves tension headaches. It also is very good for the skin for a silky smooth feeling. Lavender has been used successfully for control of fleas and cats love it.

Sandalwood is used for the brow/third eye chakra, the 6th chakra. Pure Egyptian Sandalwood for this chakra is made as a special sandalwood coconut blend. It promotes inspiration and relaxation, develops wisdom and aids deep meditation. Indian sandalwood is processed differently causing it to be darker in color while the Egyptian Sandalwood is light in color and clear.

Lotus and Blue Lotus

The ancient royals believe the lotus flower was the guidance that led the way for their soul's retrieval. It was a symbol of Love. When you go to the 2nd floor of Egyptian museum in Cairo you will see the exhibit of when they discovered lotus seeds in the vases of the golden mosque of the King Tutankhamen. There were 4 alabaster vases and the Lotus essence they found inside was in its pure concentrated form. Even after 4, 000 years had passed, the smell and vibration was still powerfully present in the discovered vases. The Lotus flowers themselves have been grown by the nature spirits for millions of years. Lotus is used by both men and women.

Lotus is used for the crown chakra, the 7th chakra. Egyptian Lotus (white) is the symbol of enlightenment and an aid to meditation. It can also be used to help relieve breathing problems

Your Amazing Power Portals

Blue Lotus is used for the heavenly chakra, the 8th chakra. The Rare Egyptian Blue Lotus has similar properties to white lotus but much more powerful and activates the 8th chakra. It works to keep all 7 of your bodies in alignment. It also has a calming and easing effect on dogs.

Angel is used for the "I AM: chakra, the 9th chakra. It has two points of local, in the energetic body field above the 8th chakra and at your hairline at your forehead. This essence carries the vibration of ISIS energy. It tends to make you feel like you are soaring, a lifting up that carries you through galaxies. If you are sensitive to vibrations at all you will sense this feeling.

Main Gate is used for the earth star chakra, the 10th chakra. It is located in the ground under your feet the same distance as your height above the ground. It connects you to the earthstar chakra. This essence carries the vibration of RA energy. Use Main Gate to return and anchor or ground yourself from soaring too far out when you used Angel or just to help you anytime you want to connect to the Earth Star Chakra.

How to use the Essences for Your Chakras

Place a small amount of each essence on the chakra area on your body from the root chakra to the crown chakra. The 9th can be applied at your hairline and the 10th on the soles of your feet. The essence for the 8th chakra can be applied in several different ways. Placing a small amount in the palms of your hands, rub hands together and open your hands in the air over your head spread the essences from your palms around in the air above your head where the heavenly chakra is located in your aura. You can use it in the shower and the aroma will expand up into the air around you or place a small amount in a candle burner to permeate the air. Any and all ways are excellent or you can just use Blue Lotus as you feel inspired.

When doing healing or chakra clearing work you can place the 1st five of the essences up the inside of the arm starting at the wrist and the 2nd five up the inside of the other arm and then just rub them together. Since they are pure there is no reaction or aversion to the smell from using them all together one after the other. In fact, you will really enjoy the scent. The essences will do their work regardless of being placed directly on each chakra because their healing vibration is so powerful and blessed.

These essences should be used as a regular practice daily during meditation, prayer or anytime you desire to focus on specific chakra healing work. You can also use any one or all of the essences at any time. Follow your instincts, you will feel when and how you want to best use them.

Chapter 4 - Color Vibrations and Location of the Chakras

1st Chakra – the major color vibration is Red. It regarded as the color related to vitality, energy, power, life and will.

The root chakra is located at the base of the spine and governs the physical dimension by helping to keep you grounded and feeling safe and secure. It also is the center for that "fight or flight" feeling and if it's balanced properly the grounding, safe, secure feeling overcome you feeling of fight or flight fear. It vibrates as your adrenal glands and governs the kidneys and spinal column since the spine is your body's grounding, secure element to which it connects.

2nd Chakra - the major color vibration is Orange. It is associated with energy and eases digestive ailments, helps the spleen and kidneys and relieves chest conditions.

The sacral chakra is located about an inch and a half above the 1st chakra, the coccyx or root chakra, which is at the base of the spine. This is the chakra for creativity in all forms, open-mindedness, receptivity to new ideas and divine inspirations. It is the center that governs attitudes in relationships, your sexual energy and reproduction or procreation.

3rd Chakra - the major color vibration is Yellow. Yellow reflects mental creativity and intellect. It has a stimulating effect on the nerves near the solar plexus.

The solar plexus chakra is located opposite the navel in the astral spine, between the navel and the rib cage. This is the chakra that holds your center of personal power, will and confidence. Physically, it directly affects the 8th thoracic vertebrae and governs the digestive system, adrenals, stomach, liver and gall bladder. You could say that the solar plexus is the organizing brain of our nervous system.

4th Chakra - the major color vibration is Green. Green is associated with harmony, sympathy, diplomacy, balance and adaptability.

The heart chakra It's located in the center of your chest. This is the chakra through which we feel love. It externalizes as the thymus gland and governs the circulatory system, your blood and heart. It also influences the immune and endocrine systems. This is the vortex that experiences and expresses love, devotion, divine love, unconditional love and compassion.

5th Chakra - the major color vibration is Blue. It reflects truth, harmony, serenity, love and inspiring to a higher consciousness.

The throat chakra is located in the throat area of your neck. This is the chakra that holds your expression, communication and judgment abilities. It externalizes as the thyroid gland and governs the lungs, vocal cords, bronchial tubes, oral communication and your metabolism. This is the vortex that helps you in expression of your true self, communication and judgment.

6th Chakra - the major color vibration is Indigo. It harmonizes with devotion, spirituality, intuition and dedication. The brow or third eye chakra is located in the center of the forehead. Physically, it directly affects the pituitary gland. This is the Chakra that governs the lower brain, nervous system, ears, nose and the left eye. It's the vortex center that helps us to consider our spiritual nature, and gives us our experiences with intuition, psychic talents, self-reflection, visualization, imagination, perception and discernment.

7th Chakra - the major color vibration is Violet. It is regarded to contain properties of calmness, and qualities of spirituality and considered a higher state of evolved consciousness. The crown chakra is located at the very top of your head. Physically it affects the pineal gland. This is the chakra that governs the upper part of your brain and your right eye. It influences your experience with charity, connection to God and spirit, belief systems, revelation and divine consciousness. This is the vortex that helps you ultimately reach the feeling of integration with God.

8th Chakra - the major color vibration is White. White is the highest vibration directly from pure source energy. It's all encompassing, all healing and all loving. It is the highest state of spirituality and connection to higher consciousness. The heavenly chakra is located in the ether above your head, in your aura. This is the energy vortex that aligns all 7 of your bodies and the chakras to keep you in balance and harmony with your higher self.

9th chakra - the major color vibration is Lavender/Pink. It has two points of local, in the energetic body field above the 8th chakra and at your hairline at your forehead. This essence carries the vibration of ISIS energy. It tends to make you feel like you are soaring, a lifting up that carries you through galaxies. If you are sensitive to vibrations at all you will sense this feeling. . Angel is used for the "I AM: chakra, the.

Chapter 5 - Gems and Music

Gems

Gems, meteorites, stones, rocks and minerals all carry the vibrational healing properties. Once we understand how each one works, we then know the best way to apply this healing energy to assist our bodies to heal, clear, unblock, and release locked up vibrations. This helps us attain healthily vibrations for ourselves. Gems, crystals and minerals are objects of beauty and wonderful tools for healing and transformation. They can help us in many ways. They also serve us as a reminder in solid form of the abilities we all have available within ourselves. They are our gift from nature to enjoy. The true gift they give to us is love. Love is the key to all things in the universe and all that really matters.

Listed below is a basic guideline chart of some of the gems and minerals that can be used with each chakra.

1st chakra – Root: Meteorite, Bloodstone, Malachite, Garnet, Hematite, Obsidian, Moldavite, Pyrite, Rhodochrosite, Rhodonite, Ruby, Smoky Quartz, Tourmalinated Quartz, Black Tourmaline (Schorl), Watermelon Tourmaline, Red/Pink Tourmaline (Rubelite)

Music

Om or Aum, is the power word or sound that has been used for centuries to instill healing and raise your vibration. It's believed to be the original audible word that best duplicates the vibration of God. You'll discover that Aum or Om is soothing, relaxing and easy to hum or chant. Let this vibrational sound come from deep within your chest. Listen to the sound of the chant (mantra) and the sound of your breathing in and out. Consciously shape and perform this sound and breath to the musical note scale for your complete chakra system. Alternately, you can focus on a note for particular chakra also.

Our bodies are made up of pulsating vibrational frequencies and have dynamic rhythmic patterns that move with our emotions, and shift with a thought or sound. Our organs and chakras respond to musical pitches. Take for example, the non-invasive "sound surgeries" where kidney stones have been shattered with pinpointed, high intensity sound waves.

Some schools of thought prefer the eastern understanding and some prefer the western understanding of which scale of musical notes that best vibrate with the chakras. I am including both for you to be able to determine for yourself. I have had good success with both of them. Whichever you choose, you will feel a connection and created a vibrational response that will resonate within your chakras and body.

It truly is a trip of a life time and I speak from experience. My visit changed my direction in life and every day, I'm completely happy and very excited about what I do. You will be amazed at what you feel and discover while you are there. Then you will be amazed again at how the changes keep taking effect even after you return home. AWESOME is not a strong enough word to describe this experience but that's all I can come up with.

We would love for you to join us. We hope for your sake, that you do.
